

Battle of Fort Fisher, NC

- Ed Bearss, now 96, provided a talk to the Bull Run Civil War Round Table on the Battle of Fort Fisher, NC on 11 July 2019. He intended to use graphics copied from two books but there wasn't time to reproduce these graphics for the audience. We don't have copies of the pages. This pdf has Internet images about the topics Ed covered in his talk and is provided to help establish context.
- Suggest the entire file be quickly reviewed prior to listening to the accompanying mp3 recording. This should help locate the appropriate image.

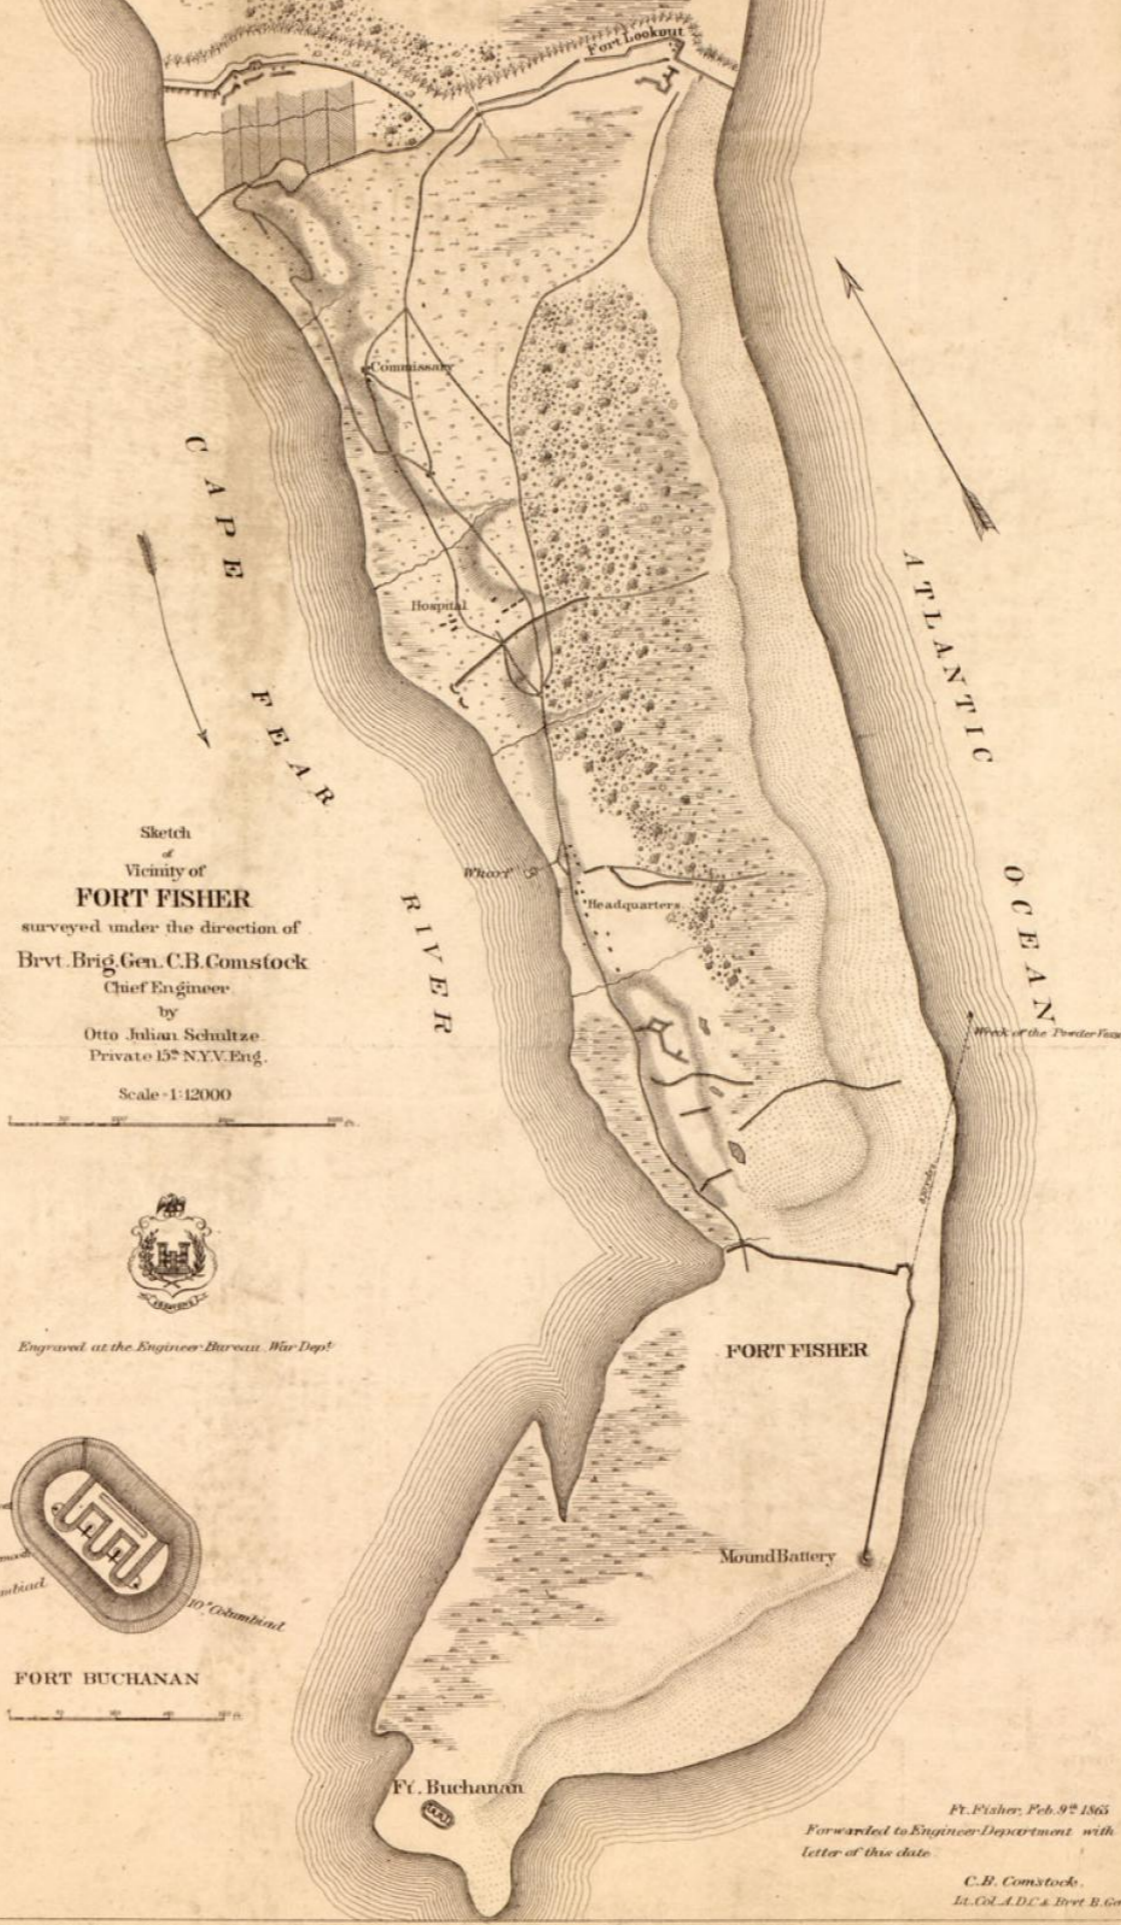

F^r FISHER. shewing Union Attack. JAN^y 15th 1865.
Union forces 4000 From Survey made after Surrender by US Engineers. Rebel forces 2,200

Benjamin Butler

Buttler Chamber Pot

Sketch of Vicinity of FORT FISHER
surveyed under the direction of
Brvt. Brig. Gen. C.B. Comstock
Chief Engineer
by
Otto Julian Schultze
Private 15th N.Y.V. Eng.
Scale 1:12000

Engraved at the Engineer Bureau War Dept.

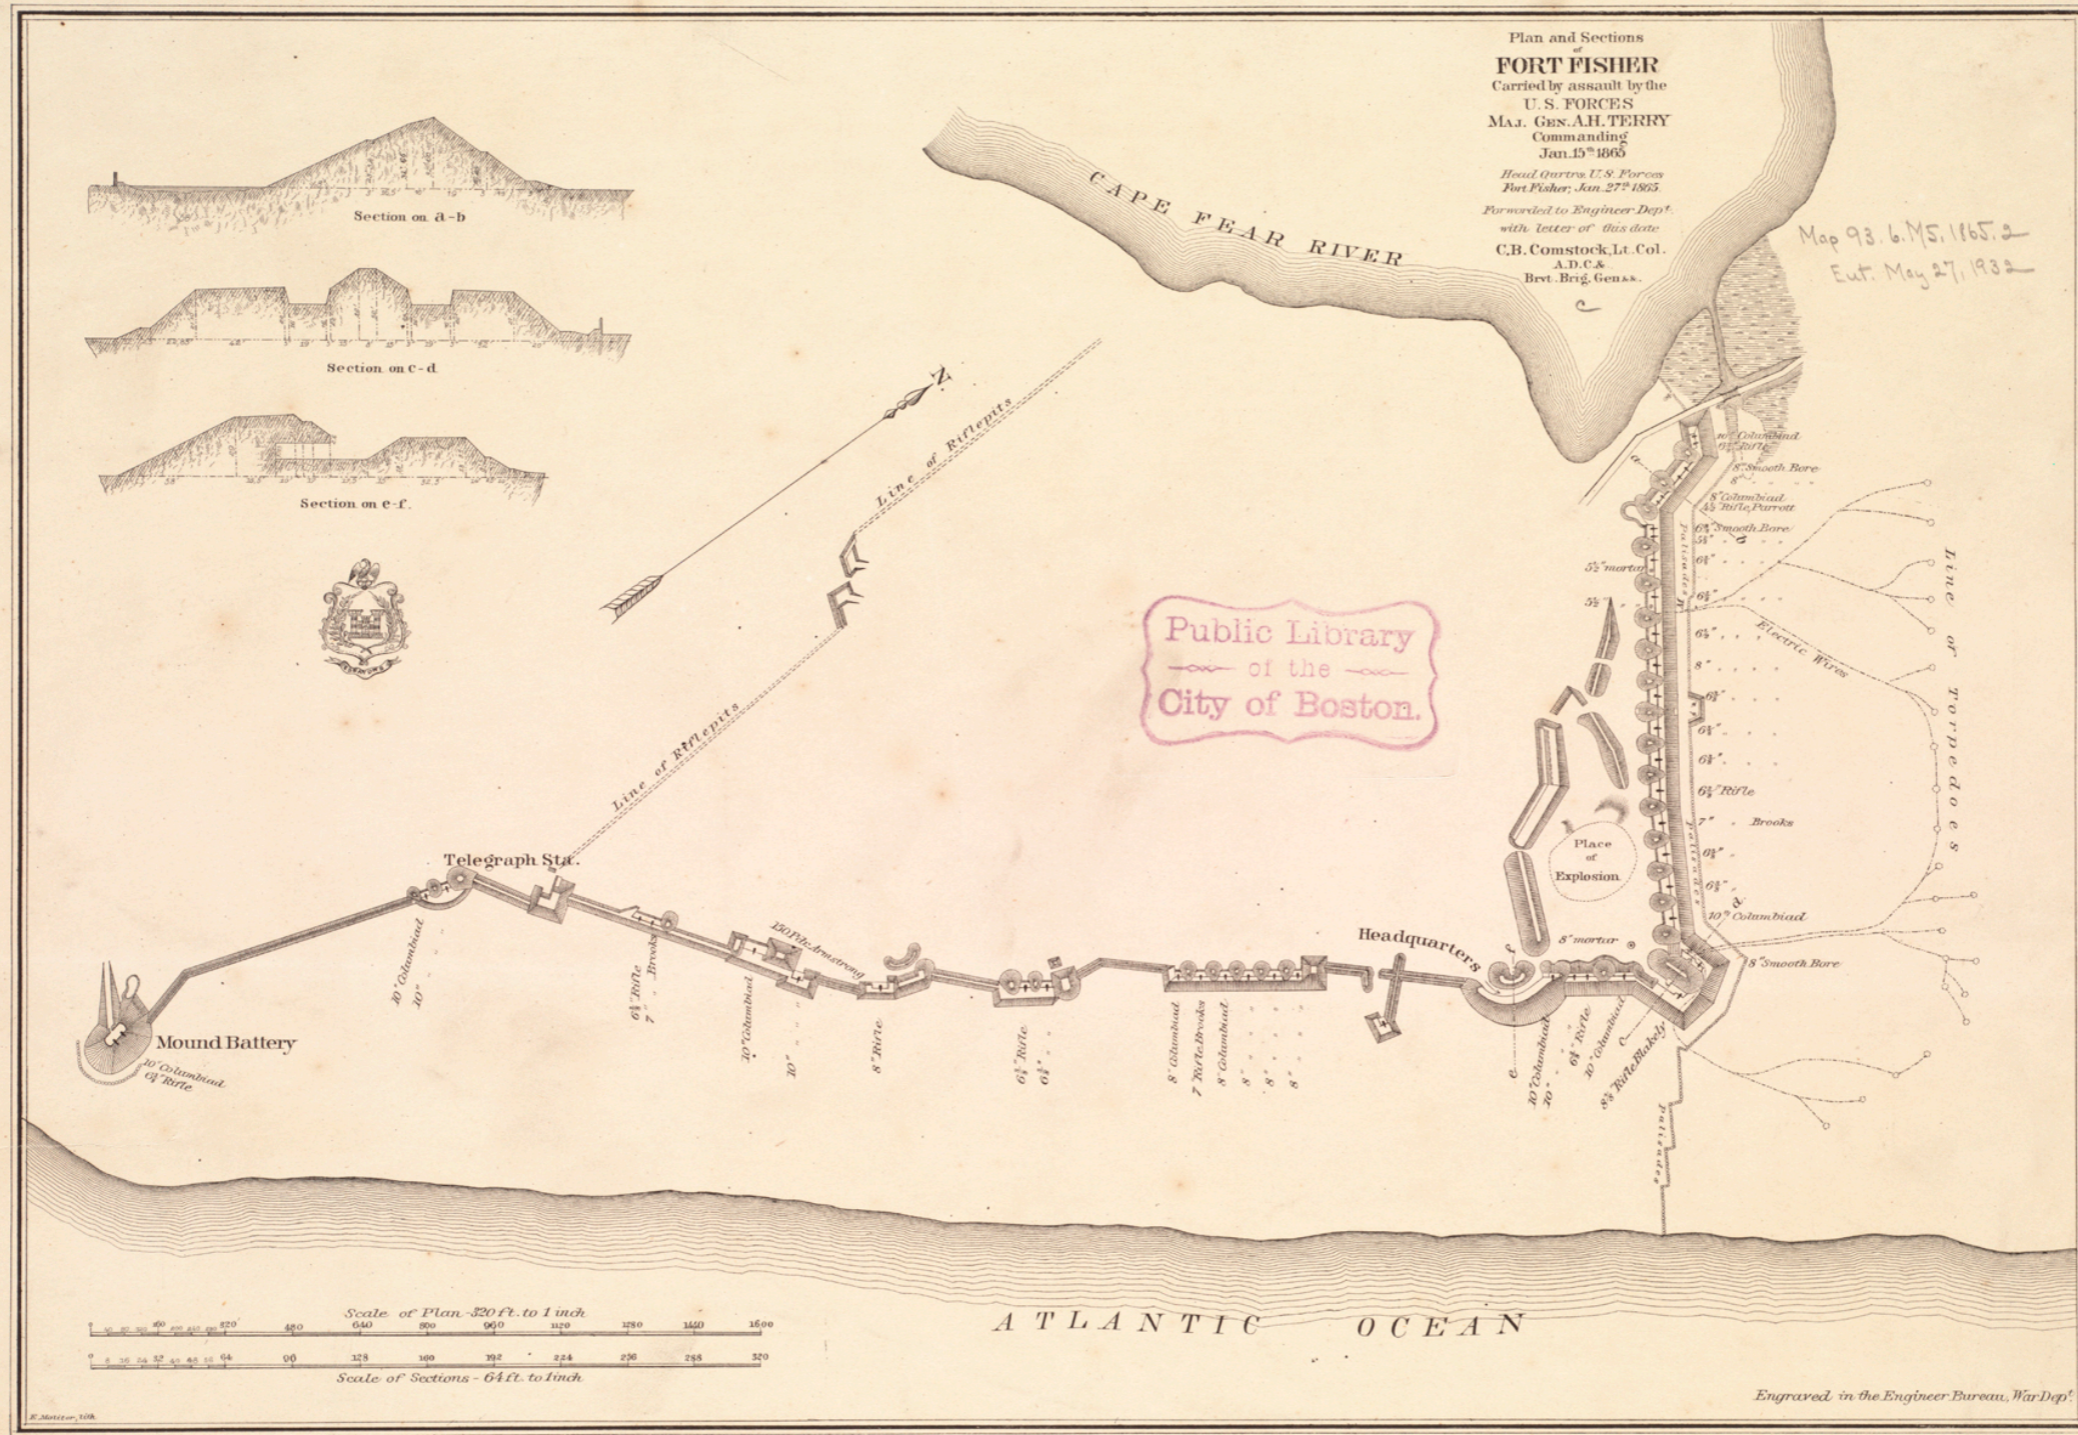

FORT BUCHANAN
Scale 1:12000

Ft. Fisher, Feb. 9th 1865
Forwarded to Engineer Department with letter of this date.
C.B. Comstock,
Lt. Col. A.D.C. & Brvt. B. Gen.

Dup. No 2 in Map 48.8
add

Map 93.6 M5
1865.2

26

Dup No. 1 in 4420.22

15 1/4

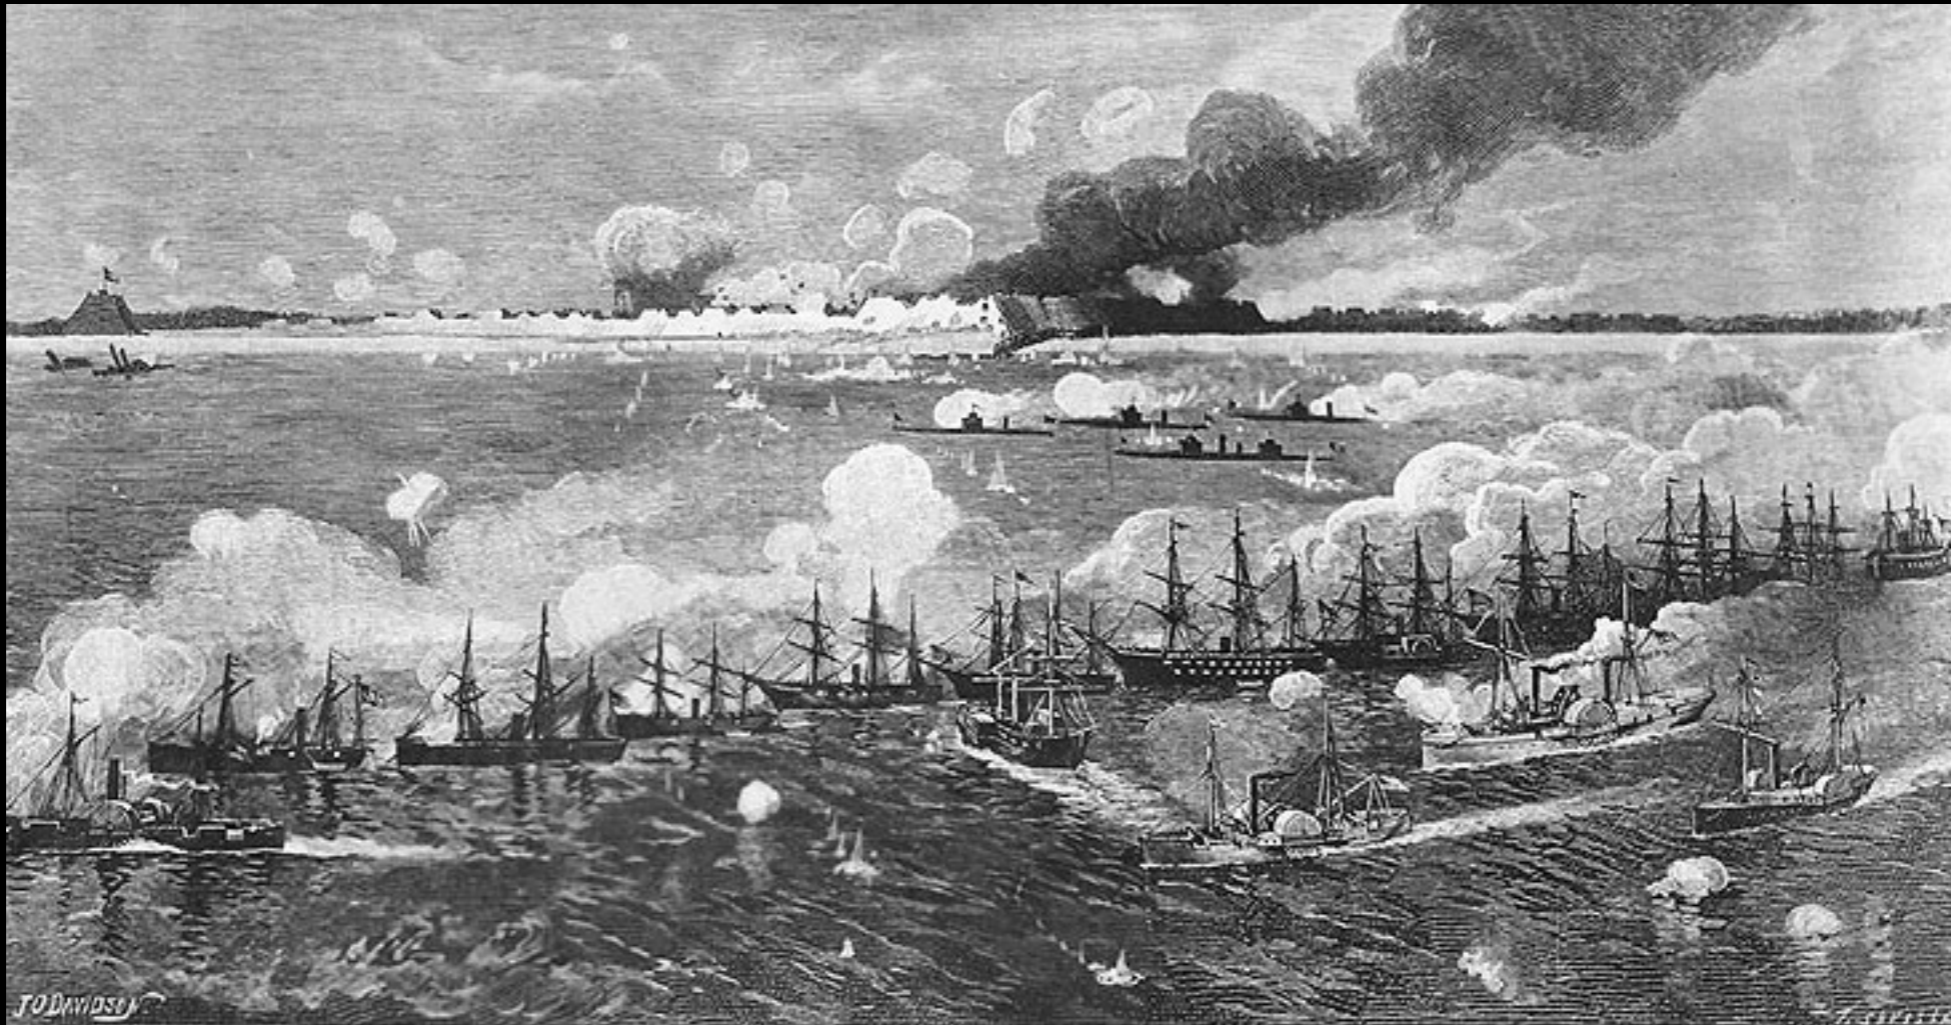

Fort Fisher
1865

USS Louisiana

Fort Fisher Bombardment

Sea Face at Fort Fisher

Maj. Gen. N. Martin Curtis, 6' 7"

